Description

Japanese garden lantern made of granite.

Height without the base: 180 cm.

Weight: approximately 600 kilograms divided into 6 elements.

Here are the approximate dimensions of each of them:

Top element: height 15 cm, diameter 34 cm.

Hat: height 12 cm, diameter 80 cm.

Cage: height 20 cm, diameter 37 cm.

Plate supporting the cage: height 12 cm, diameter 50 cm.

Arch: height 110 cm, section 16*16 cm.

Base: 65*50*25 cm. The lantern is sold alone, without the decoration.

The suggested decoration is an easily achievable staging idea for your space. This style of lantern is not widely known, even in Japan.

It was specially crafted for MAILLOT BONSAI, drawing inspiration from an ancient book on Japanese garden architecture. These models are held in place by a heavy base that serves as a counterweight. This base, into which the arch fits, will be buried and leveled to ensure proper assembly of all elements.

This model is often placed near bodies of water and rivers.

Our garden elements (basins, granite lanterns, stones, and stepping stones) are generally stored outdoors. Indeed, the patina and aged appearance acquired over time (lichen and moss) add an extra layer of authenticity that is highly valued in traditional Japanese garden art.
